

Katherine O'Neal is an Associate Professor with the OU College of Pharmacy. Her clinical practice is with the OU Medical Center Internal Medicine ambulatory care clinic. She received her Doctor of Pharmacy from The University of Oklahoma College of Pharmacy and completed a PGY1 in Community Practice with USA Drug and The University of Oklahoma College of Pharmacy and a PGY2 in Ambulatory Care with The University of Oklahoma College of Pharmacy in Tulsa, OK. Dr. O'Neal received her Masters in Business Administration from the University of Tulsa, Tulsa, OK. She is board certified in ambulatory care pharmacist and has received additional certifications in diabetes and asthma. Her practice area is within adult ambulatory medicine focusing on chronic disease states, especially diabetes, hypertension, dyslipidemia, migraine and asthma. Her research interests include patient empowerment and health literacy to improve clinical outcomes.